Daily Test I

Our first Daily Test in P2C marks an exciting step in our learning journey! Daily Test 1 is designed to gently introduce students to the process of applying what they've learned in class in a fun and supportive way. It encourages them to think critically, recall important lessons, and gain confidence in their abilities. This test helps us track their early progress, celebrating both their effort and achievements. It's not just about getting answers right—it's about developing the mindset that learning is an adventure, one that we are all taking together.

READING CLUB!

One of our extracurricular activities is the Reading Club, held every Monday for students in P1-P3. In this club, we focus on helping students improve their reading skills. Through interactive reading sessions, students are guided in developing their fluency, comprehension, and confidence in reading. It's a great opportunity for them to practice and enhance their reading abilities in a supportive and enjoyable environment.

ART PROJECT

Drawing and coloring activities from Faber Castell carried out by elementary school children in large classes on September 25 and 26. The activities carried out were drawing on black paper provided by the organizers. Children drew fruit parcels and then colored them using special crayons. This activity was very fun, besides training children's creativity, it also trained children's thinking skills to determine the right color for their drawings.

About Our Project

One of the activities in the learning process is making a project with a cake or food recipe theme. This is done in class with a group of friends. What they do is choose one type of cake or food that they like, then bring the real form to school to write the recipe and draw it on buffalo paper. After they finish, they will present their work in front of the class. This activity trains children to dare to communicate and speak in front of many people and trains creativity with group friends.

Vaccination

Importance of School Vaccination

1. Increased Immunization Rates: Schools often serve as convenient locations for vaccination campaigns, ensuring that more children receive their vaccines on schedule.
2. Herd Immunity: High vaccination rates in schools help protect not just the vaccinated individuals but also those who cannot be vaccinated due to medical reasons, contributing to community immunity.
3. Prevention of Outbreaks: Schools can be hotspots for the spread of infectious diseases. Vaccination helps reduce the risk of outbreaks, protecting students, staff, and families.
4. Educational Continuity: Keeping children healthy means fewer absences due to illness, allowing for uninterrupted learning.
